About Us

What do crocodiles, ancient civilizations, the longest river in the world, and Shine Maritime have in common? They are all things commonly found in South Sudan's Nile River systems.

Shine Maritime provides inland logistic and warehousing services of dry and liquid bulk commodities, such as grains, cereals, and petroleum products, through the Nile River System, and other South Sudan inland waterways. Our company navigates client goods downstream, upstream on the longest river in the world, the Nile River.

Spanning 6,671 km and shared by ten (10) countries, Shine Maritime is headquartered in Juba, South Sudan. All year round, we operate a fleet of pushers/towboats, boats/barges and third-party affiliates on numerous delivery routes on the White Nile to include the following terminal destinations: Juba, Terakeka, Mangala, Bor, Shambe, Malakal, Renk, and Malakal. Furthermore, the river corridors accessible during the rainy season include: Sobat Corridor, Zeraf River, Bahr el Ghazal River, and Jur River.

Every journey we take on behalf of our clients from Point A to Point B allows our experts to plan, manage, and overcome security, physical, time and handling constraints. Shine Maritime, maneuvers through water hyacinths, a thick growth and matting that restricts movement on the river, especially, narrow waterways. Additionally, we understand that low water levels and shifting sands occur during the dry seasons that restrict movement, so our company diligently mitigates these challenges.

Shine Maritime's core business is technologically focused on river logistics, warehousing, supply chain management and manufacturing and maintenance of river boats/barges. Our value-added services include: Consulting, Forwarding & Clearing, and Air/Road Transport.
